You were all things amazing to me
Made my life
Gave me air I could breathe
Everything you did seemed right
I felt so innocent

I went crazy so crazy for you
Gave my heart
Lost my mind payed my dues
Then you pushed me aside
You took my confidence

And now I feel like I'm lost in this world
And I fell like I'm dieing
And I feel for the life that we shared
But you made it all disappear
Love and it's consequence

I walked back to this place I felt faith
In my mind I'm the girl of your dreams
I refuse to realize that you were an accident

I can't blame you for not wanting me
I reclaim but there's no guarantee
That you would not leave me behind
I have my evidence

And now I feel like I'm lost in this world
And I fell like I'm dieing
And I feel for the life that we shared
But you made it all disappear
Love and it's consequence
