There's a kingdom that lives
Maybe it's only in my mind
Where love reigns all the time
Do you believe? I still believe

Our brother's sleeping all alone in the park
His head is resting on a pillow of hope
Then he says dance for me, he gives me smiles for free
He trades a joke for mine and the world is fine

And we let love reign
We reach out, don't be afraid
Everything you do
It will be coming back to you
Let love reign

A rich man's sitting on his velvet couch
His kingdom rains until he's drowned in my dreams
And then he says sing for me, give me your song for free
I'd trade his soul for mine if I could only make him kind

And he would let love reign
We reach out, don't be afraid
Everything you do
It's coming back to you

There's a kingdom of kindness where love is
And a rainbow will come with the rain's kiss
And love remains when love reigns

Let love reign
We reach out, don't be afraid
And everything you do
It will be coming back to you

'Cause only love reigns
With my love reigns
Everything you do
Is coming back to you

I do believe that love remains
I do believe that love reigns
I do believe that love remains
I do believe that love reigns

I do believe that love remains
I do believe that love reigns
I do believe that love remains
I do believe that love reigns

I do believe
I do believe
I do believe
Let our love reign
