Yes, I know, it's a long, long road
That leads to eternal life
Hearts get weary, hearts grow cold
Caught between the truth and the lie
I know it's hard, living in this world there is so much going on
But turn your eyes to the endless sky
(know why?) 'Cause tonight you might be going home
Keep your lamp burning, soon your tears will be dry
His promise will never pass you by,
will never pass you by

Chorus:

You'll be free, free from the fears
Free from the tears
When you go to see the Lord
Free, free from the pain
And I know you'll never be the same
when you go to see the Lord

If you find yourself falling down again and again
Doing things you know ain't right
'Cause love comes in like a pouring rain
To wash the guilt within your heart
Keep your lamp burning, soon your tears will be dry
His promise will never pass you by,
will never pass you by

Chorus (x2)

Rev 21:4-22:12
