Vexed my way out of the land of ice

Followed my greed to Abnormalia

24 years of perseverance

Bury my trail of tears,

Bury my lies

As I wander this mono seasoned land

Independent as a bird I could fly

While the witch conjures dark thoughts

My voracity overtook me and my craving grew

Here in utopia, I seemed to be in fault

Come here to where you belong

A portrait you might become

You are your mother's son
