She's got a temper like a hurricane
Like Gasoline to a flame
She set fire to my heart
And then she blew it apart
And now I'm stranded on a love chicane
A cold chill when I hear her name
Cause even though I knew I'd lose
I still went and lit the fuse

Chorus

And so I burn again
I'll wait my turn again
Too young to hold it in
And so I burn again
She's got a head full of novocaine
But underneath still feels the same
She doesn't like it in the dark
Her little demons pull her apart
So now I'm stranded in a love chicaine
A cold chill when I hear her name
Cause even though I knew I'd lose
I still went and lit the fuse

Chorus

And so, so
Chorus
And so, so

Chorus
