I am the night I am the moon at your window
Everyone knows the fool that I am
Like a bird making roads for winter
Can you recall we used to be friends?

I am the day I am the sun in your garden
Maybe I'll light the way to your heart
Like a song playing after evening
Everyone knows the fool that I am

Love is coming 'round again
Have you spent your chances worrying?
But how can you say you don't need a friend?
Everyone's looking for something
Everyone's looking for someone
Fool...

I am the smile that was secretly offered
No hesitation for your delight
Before hurt before love was questioned
And we believed in love at first sight

Love is coming 'round again
Have you spent chances worrying?
How can you say you don't need a friend?
Everyone's looking for something
And everyone's looking for someone
Fool...

Fool that I am
But I can see you tumbling and turning
Never learning
I don't understand
Fool, fool...

Love you forever fool that I am
Here at your service fool that I am
Fool that I am
