What a mess in the space
You set your hair on fire again
In the rustiness of your age
Another rider up in flames

Move in on you
In a most sick century

And now you know you've got to know
And now you know you just can't run
And now you know it's all to nothing and it's over

And now you know you've got to know
And now you know you just can't run
And now you know it's all to nothing and it's over

You're the girl who nicked my cage
Hangin' on with the fingernails
And I see the blind come quick then fade
Another rider up in flames

Move in on you
In a most sick century

And now you know you've got to know
And now you know you just can't run
And now you know it's all to nothing and it's over

And now you know you've got to know
And now you know you just can't run
And now you know it's all to nothing and it's over

Move in on you
Move in on you
Move in on you
