When you're low and I'm feeling awry and it's time to say goodnight when you finally lay your soul to rest I'll be falling asleep on an empty street no matter how you're feeling you know you're never on your own

Hear the bells ring in the morning when you crawl back from the church all the buildings go up to the sky all the people goin' down to the ground

And your boss is quietly hounding as he creeps into your sleep no voice or poet's pen can touch what hits you in the morning it don't matter how you're feeling

you know you're never on your own you don't even have to answer the phone

Ain't nobody
talkin' me down
I will destroy you
I've shown my soul come on

listening to you
I'll be your eyes your ears
Get on it
