"The End of Everything"

There's no soldier in me, although I try to believe
That all is not in always what you see
Army featherweights are bully boys without home
I recognize the mastermind device

The end of everything
You're dead in me forever
The end of everything
You're dead in me forever

No education, I want besides the one that I've got Divorce me from the zeros what did they do know
It's 20th century cultureless stereotypes
Waving words worth nothing to me now

The end of everything
You're dead in me forever
The end of everything
You're dead in me forever

They only want a yes-man
They will tell you what to believe and no
Yes I do
I only want to be strong

There is no soldier in me, I want my guts where they are
Not dumb to these false leaders anymore
And now you want to achieve another worthless defeat
Welcome here the heroes, on their way home

The end of everything
You're dead in me forever
The end of everything
You're dead in me forever

They only want a yes-man
They tell you what to believe and no
Yes I do
I only want to be strong
