It's quick and easy to speak about girls
Or fuck the system with canonical notes
Whatever you've written so less less inspired
This song explains that once when I alone with my guitar
I wrote just obscene melodies
And a lyric that could be thought by little mice
I hope this song'll be free, forever
And you've tried it once in a life
My inspiration's gone, again yeah...
I want to change and dance with you
I've heard my best old songs
They sound me so perfect
A critic so impartial
It's enough a girlfriend to crash all my men
This metal like an anthem... Again
