You read about them in the papers every morning
The sinner is the saint in the stories.
You judge 'em all, even when you're wrong, so you can feel better

So when the lack of understanding makes turning point
You wish it was you who made it through It drags you down, you loose your ground, it doesn't make life better

(Chorus)

Yeah, reality kicks in when the light goes out and you'll never know what tomorrow is like Just one for shot and its all pretend
These are the thoughts of a desperate man.

You can see 'em on TV every day
Bragging about their lives
Here's one for the books, its not how it looks, still you wanna make it

So when the early for elusion takes the upper hand
The kids grow up only to be a star, thats when a world will go mad this is so sad, How will they take it.

(Chorus)

Yeah, reality kicks in when the light goes out
and you'll never know what tomorrow is like
Just one for shot and its all pretend
These are the thoughts of a desperate man.

(Music playing)

I see you're trying really hard to pull it of Nomatter what the cost might be 'Cause they do not even care for the love of being there, somebody could forfill their needs

(Chorus)

Yeah, reality kicks in when the light goes out

and you'll never know what tomorrow is like Just one for shot and its all pretend woohh!

(Chorus)

Yeah, reality kicks in when the light goes out
and you'll never know what tomorrow is like
Just one for shot and its all pretend
These are the thoughts of a desperate man.

Wooh, uuh

reality kicks in when the light goes out You'll never know what tomorrow is like

reality kicks in when the light goes out

(fade out)
