So long, I've waited, for, a chance
To talk, about, our circumstance
That seems to run, straight to, you
And sends my mind
On a roller coaster ride

So tell me if I'm wastin time
Cause I'm goin out my mind
Your tellin' me that this is home
But I need to know

If it wasn't for the problems would you still be with me
If she wanted to start over would you get up and leave
If you had an option more would you be
With someone, someone, someone else

Please be honest
Be straight up
Just let me know
Was I your rebound on a low
A crutch a step a stool for you
The one to help you get through

If you wanted someone else
Would you be afraid to tell
Would you just stick around
Would things still work out in the end

If it wasn't for the problems would you still be with me
If she wanted to star over would you get up and leave
If you had an option more would you be
With someone, someone, someone else
Is it my imagination or is what I'm feelin true
If you could have your way would it be mine, just me and you
If you had an option more would you be
With someone, someone, someone else

I often think about it
How life would really be
If you would have the choice would you be here with me
Or else would it be over, would you stand by me

Love has no gaurentees but keep it real with me

If it wasn for the problems would you still be with me
If she wanted to start over would you get up and leave
If you had an option more would you be with someone, someone, someone else
Is it my imagination or is what I'm feelin true
If you could have your way
Would it be mine just me and you
If you had an option more would you be
With someone, someone, someone else

With someone else
Oh no, someone else
