"Into Her Arms"

The touch of you're finger, the smell of your hand
The way the light hits you when you're standing there
Lost in this moment don't know what to say
Never thought I'd be in love this way

You are my angel, gentle and so free
Keeping me safe, watching over me
Somehow believe, in my broken hearted soul
Even though I went and done you wrong

Chorus:

I need you now, more than I've ever known
Come to me, safe once again
My love for you, will always be true
And I run to your arms again

When I get to drinking, the whiskey takes over
And my words, cut straight to your bones
Silent and steady, you stand right beside me
Knowing well I'd die on my own

Repeat chorus

My amazing grace, sounded so sweet
Why haven't you, packed up and gone
She said "everything I do
Is cause I'm so in love with you.
Right here with you is where I belong

I need you now, more than I've ever known
Come to me, safe once again
Try as I may lord, I can't stay away
And I run into your arms again
And I run into your arms again
Lord, she's running into my arms again
