

Kyle Park "Living Room Loving"

Visit "Living Room Loving" on MotoLyrics.com

The weather outside is cold tonight
And here we are again wrapped up tight
Covered in covers, just two young lovers
Not a care in the world except for each other

A January moon, champagne for two
No one but you and me 'til tomorrow afternoon
The fire's burned out but I know somehow
There'll be one burning here any second now

CHORUS

We could be alone forever as long as we stay together
I'd be happy without a doubt
There aint no better way to live, there aint no better way to love
This living room loving has got me now

The telephone rings, but we don't hear a thing
The power goes out, but we ain't using it anyway
The night rolls on as our love grows strong
The silence of the night is deafened by what feels so right

Visit Kyle Park page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.