

Kyle Park "These Days"

Visit "These Days" on MotoLyrics.com

Toes in the sand, time on my hands
Daytime dreaming about a place I'd rather be Where I'm all alone, with no way to get home
Eternally shipwrecked, stranded out at sea

CHORUS

Because no one's looking for me these days
People say I'm not the same
But who really is 'cause time changes everything
And somehow friends can't find any time these days
To let me in on the plans they've made
So I'll stand the weather and stay here forever
Being forgotten has never felt better

My own little isle, I could stay for awhile Watching the sun go down as the day turns red to dawn
I wonder if she is looking for me
Lately I think she doesn't know I'm even gone

CHORUS II

Because no one's looking for me these days
People say I'm not the same
But who really is 'cause time changes everything
And somehow she can't find any time these days
To sit and watch the ocean break
Baby I'll stand the weather and stay here forever
Being forgotten has never felt better

CHORUS III

Because no one's looking for me these days
People say I'm not the same
But who really is 'cause time changes everything
And somehow friends can't find any time these days
To sit and watch the ocean break
So I'll stand the weather and stay here forever
Being forgotten has never felt better

Visit Kyle Park page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

