December's here
The leaves have fallen down
I feel like we've just met
And it's been awhile
I haven't gotten to know you the way that I know I want to
So now I'm taking one last chance
To turn these thoughts into words onto paper
And I'm not letting you pass me by
And I'm here when you're falling apart
And you know that I just can't see you sad
And I will always be here by your side
You know you've got me in the palm of your hand
It's like magic how you always make me smile
Even on the worst of days
And just the feeling that I get when you say my name is so amazing
I never want you to go away
And I'm here when you're falling apart
And you know that I can't stand to see you sad
And I will always be there be your side
You know you've got me in the palm of your hand
In the palm of your hand
