It's not always too late
We shouldn't separate
Face the fact that we have changed
Our lives have rearranged
You know I never thought I'd see the day that everything breaks down
And now I know just what it's like to feel there's no more stable ground
And I won't stop myself
From tearing down the walls around my heart this time
I've had enough of our goodbyes
The end is coming near
For so much I hold dear
And nothing ever made much sense to me
Before you made it all so clear
It's a Friday afternoon
I know I'll see you soon
I'll count the minutes till I'm out that door
And we're below the moon
Below the moon
And I won't stop myself
From tearing down the walls around my heart this time
I've had enough of our goodbyes
And I'm always waiting for the minute hand
