I wake up thinking that my brother's here
Can't accept he's gone away to the other side
I feel him watching over me sometimes
It's the only time I ever get to feel like smiling

Heaven
Please don't let me down
I only want to say hello to him
Just make me want to live myself
'Cause right now I don't feel much like it

I've tried so hard to understand this loss
We believed in Jesus but did he believe in us
My brother only lived to 31
Now I'm my mom and dad's only son
