There's a voice in my head
Saying don't fall in love
If you don't want a broken heart
So I asked myself, the simple question
"Should I stop before I start?"
It could be wrong, but it feels so right
I'm a sucker for romance
Should I follow my heart, or follow my head?
Should I jump and take the chance?

It's just that
Love, love, love
Doesn't know reason
Love, love, love
Doesn't know its name
Love, love, love
I still gotta believe in
Love, love, love
Just don't go away, don't go away

There's a beat in my heart
And it's calling your name
And I just can't cut it out
But in a matter of time, will it still be the same?
Can I override the doubt?
I want it to be like it is in the movies
Big like the big, big screen
I'm looking for love I want it so much
I wanna live the dream

It's just that
Love, love, love
Doesn't know reason
Love, love, love
Doesn't know its name
Love, love, love
I still gotta believe in
Love, love, love
Just don't go away, don't go away

It's old news for the broken hearted

It's old news for the broken hearted
It's old news for the broken hearted
It's old news for the broken hearted

It's old news for the broken hearted
It's old news for the broken hearted
It's old news for the broken hearted
It's old news for the broken hearted

It's just that
Love, love, love
Doesn't know reason
Love, love, love
Doesn't know its name
Love, love, love

It's just that
Love, love, love
Doesn't know reason
Love, love, love
Love, love, love
