There'll never be another moment like this
The touch of your hand
May me this is our final kiss
And I don't know why you're leaving tonight
It's so hard to believe am I dreaming
Or is this goodbye

Where in the world will I be without you
If you are leaving
Where is the love that was meant to me true
And we believed in
Now you're saying that you're leaving me
Taking your heart setting me free
Don't know where in the world I will be
If you are leaving

I'll never know as long as I live
Feelings so deep in my heart
From a love such as this
So don't take away the light from my day
The sun and the moon would be mine
If only you'd stay

Where in the world will I be without you
If you are leaving
Where is the love that was meant to me true
And we believed in
Now you're saying that you're leaving me
Taking your heart setting me free
Don't know where in the world I will be
If you are leaving

Where in the world will I be without you
If you are leaving
Where is the love that was meant to me true
And we believed in
Now you're saying that you're leaving me
Taking your heart setting me free
Don't know where in the world I will be
If you are leaving

Where in the world will I be without you

If you are leaving
Where is the love that was meant to me true
And we believed in
Now you're saying that you're leaving me
Taking your heart setting me free
Don't know where in the world I will be
Where in the world will I be without you
If you are leaving
