One by one my fences fall
In your eyes I see it all
You tell me dreams
No need for talking
Its by your side
I want to walk in
I watch the sun fill up the room
The world it flowers begin to bloom
You're moving like the world a lover could do
I need the rest of my life to get over you

Here comes heaven now before you
I was feeling lost inside
Here comes heaven now you've touched me
I can't feel, I can't breathe, I can't love, I can't fly.

Honey pours into the jar
Shepherd moods hug every star
You hold me close and feel me like a glove
I see your name in skies above

Water melts into the sand
My bodies shaking in your hand
To hear you say that I'm your destiny girl
Spend the rest of your life
Rocking my world

Here comes heaven now before you
I was feeling lost inside
Here comes heaven now you touch me
I can't feel, I can't breathe, I can't fly.

And when you smile that way
A simple word you say
It hits me every time
I can't believe you're mine
My loneliness is just a memory
Its only in your arms I wanna be

You're moving like the world a lover could do
I take the rest of my life and spend it with you

Here comes heaven now before you
I was feeling lost inside
Here comes heaven now you've touched me
I can't feel, I can't breathe, I can't love, I can't fly.

Here comes heaven now before you
I was feeling lost inside
