[Verse 1:]

Met her at a rave, never stopped grooving
Lost in a trance from telepopmusic
I was so gone, she was so there
I know I'm intoxicated but I don't care
Lights keep flashing, she keeps dancing
She's trying to figure out why I keep glancing
This is my chance, I don't wanna miss it Eye contact, something feels different
Two new worlds, our galaxy is distant
I send my radiation, she started drifting
Teleport her over my way that instant
Grabbed, leaned in her ear and whispered
If your too high and you can't listen
Tune in to the new transmission
Step out of life and make the transition

[Chorus:]

She's so high, she reach the sky
Look into her eyes, she's so high
She lives inside of clouds, her silence is loud
She screams without a sound she's so profound

[Verse 2:]

Left from the rave, hopped in a spaceship
Off to the hard drive, west of the matrix
I was so high, didn't think I could make it
Plus I kept envisioning the woman I was taking home Getting naked (clothes), baby take it (slow), ain't no way we gotta (go), I lay in my all pink UFO, land on a lily pad then we (coast), pour some? champagne and (toast), the bubbles from the champagne make us (float), aquatic clouds now we both need a (moat), she's the high I need the most More than a woman, less than a queen, stuck in between
Reality and dreams
This feels like a movie scene, she's holographic without the screen, nah mean?

[Chorus:]

She's so high, she reach the sky

Look into her eyes, she's so high
She lives inside of clouds, her silence is loud
She screams without a sound she's so profound
