The victories, the battles won
They'll never come back to me
The joyful moments, free from care
They'll never come back to me

Come a little closer angel
Let me see where I belong
I'm ready for your sentence
In this moment, I am strong

The victories, the battles won
They'll never come back to me
The suffering, the struggles gone
But still no light to see

The joyful moments, free from care
They'll never come back to me
The fear and desperation's gone
But still no light to see

Hollow moments
Hollow times
The punishment for all my crimes
A hollow truth
For me to face
Like an angel who fell from grace

Come a little closer...
Even time can't dry the tears
Come a little closer...
I spilled while searching for the light
Come a little closer...
No absolution for my soul
Come a little closer...
My deeds demand their bitter toll
