The world will tumble from its axes the sun will be covered by the sea
The moon will burn and turn to ashes the day you stop loving me
You gave me love and with your giving you opened my eyes and made them see My life will cease to be worth living the day you stop
loving me
[steel] Once there was only the beginning nothing but darkness over land and sea
My life would be like the beginning the day you stop
loving me
You gave me love and with your giving you made me the man I was born to be
loving me
The day you stop loving me
