Well hello there come on in I'm expecting you my friend
Yes you came to see the house that is for sale
All the neighbors are so fine they're the friendly helpfull kind
There's so many extras here that you'll enjoy See the fireplace in the den have the bar she had filled in
And the paintings aren't they pretty on the wall
All the curtains and the shades all she had them custom made
You can have them don't want nothing left at all A home where love once lived and died where a million mem'ries hide
It revolves to talk a story they could tell Now a stranger came to town and my world came tumbling down
Now our home is just a pretty house for sale [steel]
A home where love once lived...
Yes our home is just a pretty house for sale
