She can take the morning rain
Falling on my window pane
And turn it into sunshine in my mind

And she can take the darkest night
And brighten it with a love sweet light
And I'm satisfied just knowing she's that kind

And I can feel so down and out
But she knows what it's all about
And she can help me leave it all behind

There's something in the way she smiles
That seems to brighten all my trials
It's good to know my woman is that kind

She's that kind that I'm thankful to the Lord above
For sending me that kind of woman for me to love
If I could live another life and I could choose another wife
I wouldn't change a thing 'cause she's that kind

She's that kind that I'm thankful to the Lord above
For sending me that kind of woman for me to love
If I could live another life and I could choose another
wife
I wouldn't change a thing 'cause she's that kind
No, I wouldn't change a thing 'cause she's that kind
