Workin' out here on the railroad line
Breakin' my back for nickels and dimes
Sweatin' in the hot sun all of the time
Well I wake up and pray that the sun don't shine

Tomorrow mornin' I swear to my soul
I'm gonna go cut me a hickory pole
And sit right back by the fishin' hole all day

Tomorrow, tomorrow
Tomorrow's gonna be another day
Tomorrow, tomorrow
Tomorrow's gonna be another day

So go tell that man that I won't be back
To lay no more here's a railroad track
I got little green weeds growin' round my shack
I keep my money in a gunny sack

Well, I'm never gonna be a millionaire
Just pass me over 'cause I don't care
I'll sit right back in my easy chair all day

Tomorrow, tomorrow
Tomorrow's gonna be another day
Tomorrow, tomorrow
Tomorrow's gonna be another day

Tomorrow, tomorrow
Tomorrow's gonna be another day
Tomorrow, tomorrow
Tomorrow's gonna be another day
