When you're feeling low
Things have got you down
Just remember
I'll always be around

So if you're feeling lost
Tell me what to do
'Cause nothing's as important
To me as you

Only the lonely have a reason to be sad
A reason to be acting like it's too bad
One day you might wake up and find this is your fate
You kept them all away and now it's too late

You treat them like a dream
It might not all come true
But no one else could love you
The way I do

Love is much too shy
It needs the test of time
Let somebody love you
Don't pass it by

Only the lonely have a reason to be sad
A reason to be acting like it's too bad
One day you might wake up and find this is your fate
You kept them all away and now it's too late

Love's desire
Kept on pushing us
Helped us get through the night

Now we're tired
Still we're hangin' on
Have we run out of time

Only the lonely have a reason to be sad
A reason to be acting like it's too bad
One day you might wake up and find this is your fate

You kept them all away and now it's too late

Only the lonely have a reason to be sad
A reason to be acting like it's too bad
One day you might wake up and find this is your fate
You kept them all away and now it's too late
