Every time is time to go
In many ways every dream is like a long road
With little time
I will fly within your sky

Every time is time to go
Every while is for us to hold
Along the way your destruction is my life
With little time, I will fly between your smile

'Cause every time is time to go
And every while is for us to hold
In many ways every dream is like a long road
It's my desire to protect your lips with mine, with mine

Oh it's sad and lonely
In all I believe is not lost
Oh it's sad

Along the way to love with everything behind
For many hours we will be fugitives of time

'Cause every time is time to go
And every while is for us to hold
Every time is time to go
And every while is for us to hold
Every time
