What makes me happy
Where do I start
When each new day brings
Another million things to causes a ripple on the waters of my heart

From every corner
1 2 3 4
A kaleidoscope
Of happiness and hope comes knocking at my door

If I had a million fingers
On which to count
I would use up those
And start upon my toes
And never have the right amount
Of things that leaves me
And makes me smile
Those everyday things that makes my life worthwhile

I can sing
I can dance like there's ants in my pants
I can jump like a lovesick flea
I can slither like a snake
I can shimmy and shake like the sheik of Aribee

What makes me happy
The list extends
From the love that lies in an old dogs eyes
To the sound of little children makin friends
All of the senses
Each day are met
With a shower of joy
Like a shore of little fishes
And my heart is the nest

I can giggle with delight
Like a picalow in flight
I can roll like an old brown bear
I can whistle
I can sing like a scarlock in the spring
When he thinks no ones there

What makes me happy
So much to say
If I made a note
The things I wrote would reach from here to Mandela
But one things special
And here's a clue
It starts with a Y
Has a circle in the middle
And it ends with U

What makes me happy
Now let me see
Q R S T
That's right
It's U
