(While you're cheating on me I'm praying for you)
For I still believe someday you'll be true You'll reap what you sow I know those words are so true
For when you were faithful to me I cheated on you

I know how you felt last night when you came home to me
You gave me a kiss and a smile but the fear in your eyes I could see Your sweet lips were trembling like mine as your story began
I tried to pretend I believed you for the chance to smile again [choir]
While you're cheating on me...
While you're cheating on me I'm praying for you
