My phone bill's running long these days
Rain keeps me inside
Keeping contact with old love for future pleasure aims

I've been eating healthy food all week
Hot water, makes herbal tea now
I deserve getting wasted
After all, it's friday night tonight

The demon
Running into my blood
Spreading inside my veins
Making me see things in different light
Thanks to the wine
I'm building up this new thing
Thanks to you

Put my cd's back in order, mess them up again
This is how I choose to spend another day of my life

I've been eating unhealthy food all week
Fat greasy fastfood meals
I deserve getting wasted
After all, it's friday night tonight

The demon
Running into my blood
Spreading inside my veins
Making me see things in different light
Thanks to the wine
I'm building up this new thing
Making up a new dream
So that I can put all things right into place

Tonight I'm breaking the rules you're making
Tonight I'm showing you are all mistaken
Tonight tonight tonight
I'll see so that all things get right
