my good friend Patrik told me how to play just like our idol, we both love Nick Drake took off from school
took off to practice and play writing new songs with a world getting worse singing new tunes about changing the world and I do believe that I, I do believe that I can turning from normal to bitter to sad hope was the last thing that I ever had gone with the knowledge that everyone in here might die within three years from now

took off from school

my curtains are stuck but I guess that it's dark guess that it's night and I guess I should stop
