Here's a voice raised for you
Who've lost your own
Here's a song sang
For you who lost the war
For you who lost the war
About to fight again

Here's some justice for you
With lack of love
Here's some pride brought to
You who've lost your own
To you who've lost your hope

Don't leave no hints or they'll hunt you down
If you cry while you sleep
You might reveal your dreams
Don't leave no trace or they'll track you down
If you speak while you sleep
You might reveal your dreams

Here's some caring for you
With real deep cuts
Here's attention for you with real deep scars
For you to heal your arms

Don't leave no hints or they'll hunt you down
If you cry while you sleep
You might reveal your dreams
Don't leave no trace or they'll track you down
If you speak while you sleep
