Is there something you'd like to do tonight?
I got some bridges to burn
I'd like to fly away tonight
For whatever it's worth
Keep the salt out of my eyes can you
Keep the heat in the air?
Maybe i'm making the whole thing up
Maybe you're not even there

I called your machine just to hear your voice
I know you were listening when all i could hear was noise
And all of the demons around my bed
Call your name like they want you dead
But i can't keep the rain from getting in Can't keep the rain from getting in
One more yeah it's pouring down again
I can't keep the rain from getting in
One more night

I set fire to the car tonight
To keep from running away
I needed something loud and bright
To keep the memory at bay
Sometimes i shout a lot
There's things i know how to say
Sometimes i get scared
I just get carried away

I called your machine just to hear your voice
I know you were listening when all i could hear was
noise
And all of the demons around my bed
Call your name like they want you dead
But i can't keep the rain from getting in
Can't keep the rain from getting in
One more night
Yeah it's pouring down
Yeah it's pouring down again
I can't keep the rain from getting in
One more night, night, night well i call your name just to hear the sound hang in the air as i walk around

but i can't keep the rain from getting in Can't keep the rain from getting in
One more
I can't keep the rain
Can't keep the rain
Can't keep the rain
Can't keep the rain
Can't keep the rain
Can't keep the rain
Can't keep the rain
Can't keep the rain
Can't keep the rain from getting in
one more night.
