You won't ever see me
Running around
There's no point in looking
For what I've already found

When it comes to loving
She's the one
There's nothing worth doing
That she ain't already done

My good loving woman understands
There's no way of losing a satisfied man

I wouldn't take chances
To try something new
'Cause her kind of loving
Is much too good to lose

I never will leave her loving arms
Her love's like a fever
There's no other woman that warm

My good loving woman understands
There's no way of losing a satisfied man
My good loving woman understands
There's no way of losing a satisfied man
