Come to me to feel my protection a countdown to my revelation no more respect for your regrets

And your time has come

The naked truth is in disguise It's your secret complication exhausted of this sacrifice just like a lying preacher

Hiding to survive

So strong living in torture
I know that you will never see the light again

So hard living in torture erase the burning fear into your eyes again

The silent scream is stronger now you cannot keep it too long this cloud evolving into rain your desert seems so far now

Come into my arms

Following your line
I'm losing mine
