Answer me, it can't be so hard Cry to relieve what's in your heart Desolation, grief and agony

Trying to move down in this grave
Trying to believe in every faith
As another bridge to clarity

Want to stay another way
(Want to stay another way)
Want to stay another way
(Want to stay another way...)

Take another chance to find a distant sanity
and turn your pain in truth
Take another chance
to fight a different enemy
and try to free it

Dance with me, it can't be so hard Time to reveal what's in your heart
Desolation, grief and agony

Walking through a life decayed while you're repeating your mistakes

There's another chance to try to get away

Take another chance
to find a distant sanity
Take another chance
to fight a different enemy
and try to free it

Want to stay another way
(Another way)

(Another way)
(Another way)

to find a distant sanity
Take another chance
and try to free it

to find a distant sanity
