So many times I wished I could've walked away,
Spread my wings into the sky, let myself go.
Opening this big heart to freedom once again,
that I can heal the strife, I will start again from here.

The fury breaks into the circle, unrestrained I'm leashing out.
I won't die, I get on my knees, think above all you, I will walk alone.

So many times, against the innocent in me,
gates abutment to locked tight, my SOUL IN-MATE
I'm running out of hope, it's caving in on me,
no time to say Goodbye, now I'm setting myself free

The fury breaks into the circle, unrestrained I'm breaking out.
I won't die, I get on my knees, think above all you, I will
walk alone.

Like heavy shadows in the jungle, none of them will move along.
Feel you break into the circle, unrestrained I'm Freaking out.

I won't die, I get on my knees, think above all you, I will
walk alone.
I will walk alone, I will alone, I will walk alone
