I've seen your ghost
I know your face
I've seen your ghost
I know your name
I'm in the dark it's nothing new
I'm in your heart, but without you

So tell me if you're good enough
To make anything that matters
I'm not gonna make you stay

Baby you're on your own
So sit back down with that telephone
I'll keep singing if you keep chatting away

Now you're a specter in my head
Haunting me with things you've said
I lurk my dreams, I dance with clues
I fall asleep but wake up used

So tell me if you're good enough
To make anything that matters
I'm not gonna make you stay

Baby you're on your own
So sit back down with that telephone
I'll keep singing if you keep chatting away
