Well the fall hit me hard
I was on my back staring at stars
But it was daylight outside
So I stared up at those leaves
And I felt them underneath
And I watched as summer turned quiet
And somehow it made sense
How it all comes to an end only to begin again
Summer's pile of regrets
Was only spring's lost bets
And if it wasn't fall outside it was in
So just button up your coat
Here it comes, here we go
Just remember tomorrow never knows
And the colors are going to be
Ones like you've never seen
So say goodbye to green
Because here it comes in incredible yellows
Inevitable orange
And you can just get on down
To the feel good hit of the fall

Seasons come and go
And the next thing you know
You're right back where you started
But a whole lot smarter
All that matters is right now
So breathe in and breathe out
All that matters is right now
So come on and get down
To the feel good hit of the fall

Well there's a few things in this world
Sadder than the end of summer
But there's a few things more beautiful than fall

And I never much liked winter
But I guess that's the price you pay
Because there's a few more things beautiful than spring
Changes this fall are going to last forever
