All the mirrors scream
As they describe your dreams
All that they deride
Until you have no allies
They depict a world where we aren't safe, without hate
An angry mob of one
Author of the unstoppable will
United, we must kill
Here comes the faade
They will inflate your god
By default accomplice to their war
But I know, where I stand
Born into the geographic call
But I won't elect, to let my mind fall
No dividers No dividers
No dividers No dividers
No dividers No dividers
No dividers
No dividers
No dividers No dividers
