So many times driving on the highway of love
I've been looking for a place in the sun
But I was looking for a heartache to come

So many nights dreaming on a rainbow of love
When I wake up in the morning, just to find out it's gone
I'm waiting for the night to come on
Standing in the shadow of love

I've been looking for an easy way out
Ending up standing in the dark
So many times, so many nights
Dreaming of you

Too many feelings, too much of emotion
Is turning love upside down
Love is always turning around

So many times, so many nights
Thinking of you
Too many feelings, too much of emotion
Is turning love upside down
Love is always turning around

Driving on a carousel of love
Riding on a carousel of love

So many times so many nights
Thinking of you
Thinking of you
Love is always turning around
Love is always turning around
