Great cosmos, eternal ocean
Spring forth now colder motions
Break dawn now, break new day
Sweet, silent, colder changes

Lay still night in the forest
Bring fall now, bring the ever rest
Cold silence, no emotions
Feel changes through the ocean

One went to seek the loss
One went to seek the darker side of us
One went to seek the cross
Only to find the crimson cosmos

Great cosmos, crimson ocean
Waves riding empty motions
Bring twilight, bring new night
Now silent demon sleeping

Lay still night for the angels
No laughter or no angers
Cold silence, no emotions
Feel changes through our ocean

One went to seek the loss
One went to seek the darker side of us
One went to seek the cross
Only to find the crimson cosmos

One went to seek the loss
One went to seek the darker side of us
One went to seek the cross
Only to find the crimson cosmos

One went to seek the loss
One went to seek the darker side of us
One went to seek the cross
