I can't cry, I can't understand
Can't we give in or give up my plan?
And we were swimming in the water with no hands

And I will never quit the fight
I'll push the limits of our love
And every passing day and night
I'll push the limits of our love
And everything will be all right
I'll push the limits of our love
To see how far it goes, goes where nobody knows

You're the light on the darkest me
Don't back out 'cause you cannot see
And though our instincts say that we should turn and run

And I will never quit the fight
I'll push the limits of our love
And every passing day and night
I'll push the limits of our love
And everything will be all right
I'll push the limits of our love
To see how far it goes, goes where nobody knows

And when the world is crashing down
I'll throw it on my back for you
When you're paralyzed and bound
I'll be waging war, my love
My love, my love

And I will never quit the fight
I'll push the limits of our love
And every passing day and night
I'll push the limits of our love
And everything will be all right
I'll push the limits of our love
