I remember what we said
I believe in better times ahead
There's so much unpredicted, oh oh
I believed in yearning trees
How they twist and tingle after light
I believed in turning it all around over night

And I do do my best not to care
That you still make me blush
If you do love me, love, then love me such
And I do do my best not to care
That you still make me blush
And if you do love me, love, then love me such
And if you do love me, love, then love me such

I believe in fairytales
I believe in so much more ahead
I believed in turning times
I believe I could be one of them
No matter the beginning, happy in the end

I won't spend a minute more
I won't spend another second less
Said goodbye long ago, bitterness
And when I lose all hope and just let go
I don't let go, all is unpredictable

And I do do my best not to care
That you still make me blush
If you do love me, love, then love me such
I do do my best not to care
That you still make me blush
And if you don't love me, love, so help me God

I don't let go, all is unpredictable
Then love me such
And if you do love me, love, then love me such
