Try a little honesty
That ain't gonna hurt you
Try a little sympathy
Hell is what I've been thru
We can't find no peace of mind
I am not the enemy
So why you wanna hurt me

Sorry I am, you are damn hopeless
Too weak I'm in too deep, I can't focus
Wake up before it is too late
You bringing me down, bringing me down

So the possibility
That you will explode all over me
Is driving me insane
This is a crazy kind of game
It's dangerous, it's chemical

Try to find a remedy
'Cause I really think I love you
Try some kind of therapy
I'm running out of patience
Sick and tired of all your lies
Cause you, you got a tendency
To rip my little heart out

Sorry to be, but I'm so damn hopeless
Too weak I'm in too deep I can't focus
Wake up before it is too late
You bringing me down, bringing me down

So the possibility
That you will explode all over me
Is driving me insane
This is a crazy kind of game
It's dangerous, it's chemical
And soon it will all collide
You're out of your head
Out of control
And you gonna take me
With you when you fall

So the possibility
That you will explode all over me
Is driving me insane
This is a crazy kind of game

The possibility
That you will explode all over me
Is driving me insane
This is a crazy kind of game
It's dangerous, it's chemical
