

Lambretta "Forgotten"

Visit "Forgotten" on MotoLyrics.com

So this is it then, you're leaving alone
The seconds like hours, just watching you go
I'm biding my time yeah, I got to be strong
It's not making sense, the fact that you're gone
The pills can numb my suffering
But I can't fly with broken wings

Gone, but never forgotten
He's gone, but never forgotten

I still wear the diamond, you placed on my hand
But the key of the castle, was made out of sand
I'm crawling my way back to where we began
I'm fighting my sorrow, with hammer in hand
Remembering the songs we sang
You got your picture in Kerrang

Gone, but never forgotten
He's gone, but never forgotten

My wardrobe still contains the scars
Of your fashion statement wars
Your five o ones the feel so good
The one's you wore when we made love

I just can't forget you
I wasn't meant to
Be alone for ever more
Down and tired on the floor
Guess I should have left you
The day I met you
Change my life for ever more
Should have headed for the door

Yeah, I can't forget you, no
I can't forget you

Gone, but never forgotten
He's gone, but never forgotten

