I sleep alone tonight, wishing you were here
What made you change your mind
What did I do
I played by every rule you made
Walking a circular path
There's no ending to your suspicion
So where does that leave me now

In it I'm lost in a world that only revolves around you
Hangin' on to my only hope
That someday you'll stop running, running
You'll stop running, running
From the one you love

Hold me close don't let me go
It's taken time for me to show
The way that I feel is so real baby
Baby let me
Baby let me have you know

Cus I'm really lost in a world that only revolves around you
Hangin' on to my only hope
That someday you'll stop running, running
You'll stop running, running
From the one you love

Running, running
You'll stop running
From the one you love
