Oxygen deprivation my face is turning blue
Choking on tasteless sentiments and isolated views
Yeah city lights they're blurring past
Another nameless state-line at your back
Another day is another year
You're having fun but still wanna hear

Everybody needs love sweet love
Open arms to hold when the times get tough
A special soul to share in the joy of life
Yeah, love is worth the fight

La dah dah dah dah dah dah dah

Radio burning holes in every speaker door
Yeah the louder played it numbs away
Whatever you keep running for

It may take some time to recognize
There's no home in the car you drive
And baby that's no way to live
Your getting old and you can feel it

Everybody needs love sweet love
Open arms to hold when the times get tough
A special soul to share in the joy of life
Everybody needs love yeah
Open arms to hold when the times get tough
A special soul to share in the joy of life
Love is worth the fight

Lah dah dah dah dah dah dah dah

Love is worth the fight
